

End-of-the-Semester

Unemployment Filing Party

Time: 1 pm, Saturday, May 15
Place: IEA Chicago Office
230 W Monroe, 2640
Chicago, IL
RSVP: filing@chicagococal.org by Wednesday evening for building security, food, and material
Contact: 708-372-5627

Because teaching assignments are contingent on enrollment and other factors, class assignments are not sure and adjuncts do not have “reasonable assurance” of work until they walk into a classroom filled with students. Unemployment insurance benefits were designed to ease the financial uncertainty of unemployed persons and temporarily unemployed persons.

We host these end-of-semester filing gatherings to provide a supportive atmosphere and to help guide applicants through the process.

Because we pay into that system, we should enjoy its benefits.

For additional information on the issue, see Access to Unemployment Insurance Benefits for Contingent Faculty available at <http://www.chicagococal.org>

This event, supported by COCAL and IEA-NEA, is an ongoing effort to help adjuncts win their rightful unemployment benefits between semesters.

We hope to see you there!

(You will need an ID to present at the security desk.)

